Walk-a-Thons 2011

Let's Get Ready...

WHAT IS A WALK-a-THON?

The Alabama Kidney Foundation's annual Walk-a-Thons are fun-filled family events that raise funds to support the Foundation's programs for kidney patients in need throughout our state while increasing community awareness of kidney disease.

WHO PARTICIPATES?

Over 1000 individuals and team walkers will join us! They are patients, family and friends of kidney patients, individuals whose lives have been touched by kidney disease and those who want to make a difference in the lives of Alabama's kidney patients.

WHY WOULD YOU PARTICIPATE?

Kidney disease is rampant in Alabama, particularly among African-Americans, ranking our state fifth in the nation for occurrence. Many patients live at or below the poverty level due to the devastating effects of this chronic illness. By participating in a Walk-a-Thon, you can help kidney patients in your part of the state! You will be raising money for the Foundation's three program areas, all provided free-of-charge to Alabama's kidney patients in need: financial assistance, education and support services.

WHAT IS THE FUNDRAISING GOAL?

With the state of the economy, Alabama kidney patients need your help now more than ever! In order to meet the growing demands of the kidney patients we serve, the Foundation's Walk-a-Thons must raise over $320,000.

HOW DOES THE WALK MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

Last year, the Alabama Kidney Foundation provided nearly $400,000 in direct support to kidney patients in need through two programs: Daily Living Needs and Transportation Assistance. Daily Living Needs help patients with medication, high utility bills, handicap equipment while the Transportation Program ensures patients can get to and from life-sustaining treatment.

Recipe from DaVita

Since 2010, Mike Greiner and his wife, Sheri, and their two children, Levi, 13 and Chore 10, have been traveling around the country challenging people in all 50 states to sign up to be organ donors. They recently visited UAB Hospital in Birmingham, Alabama to bring attention to their crusade.

Mike, 42, received his kidney and pancreas transplant in 2003 after years of diabetes wore out his kidneys. His mission began after meeting the mother of the 21-year-old woman who supplied the organs after dying of a brain hemorrhage. "More than me getting a second chance at life, I'm really her daughter's legacy," said Greiner. A year after his transplant Mike and Sheri started planning and in 2010 they sold all their belongings and house in Illinois and took to the road. Ann Rayburn, senior manager of professional education of the Alabama Organ Center said, "People like Mike are so great, because it helps put a human face on organ donation." Mike and his family want to dispel the myths that prevent people from donating, including the fear that they won't get medical help and the idea that some people are too old or too sick to donate.

So far the Greiner's have been in 37 states and on the road for almost 300 days logging in 30,000 miles and over 700 hours driving in their van. When asked how the family handles the rigors of being on the road Mike said, "Like any family we have our moments, but on the road we're forced to deal with them. There is no couch to sleep on or man cave or other room to escape to! It has brought us closer, though, as you can imagine being together in a minivan would. In fact, we're planning to write a book to help families with marriage and parenting ideas we've learned on the road."

Mike and Sheri started homeschooling several years ago so that the adjustment to life on the road wouldn't be as much of a culture shock to their children. Mike said, "The home schooling curriculum is computer based and lends itself easily to life on the road, but honestly the history the children are learning this year by visiting so many historical sites is beyond what they could possibly learn from a textbook alone." Levi and Chloe miss their friends in Illinois, but with today's technology they are able to stay in touch. When asked what a typical day is like for the Greiners, Mike replied, "Yesterday, we woke up at 4 a.m. to do a live TV interview, toured a newspaper studio, met an incredible donor family, spoke at a Rotary Club meeting, spoke at a school assembly, and toured a beautiful cathedral-like church before we hit the sack at 8 p.m.! Typically during the day, we're traveling, visiting museums and other sites, or doing events/meeting with media to ask people to sign up as donors, and then during the evenings in the hotel rooms, we do school and work."

Mike knows if everyone in America signed up as an organ donor, the 110,000+ people currently waiting for a transplant wouldn't need to wait. More importantly, the 19 people who die every day waiting might survive. If everyone took 8 minutes or less to sign up, the problem could be solved.

Making a Difference in Different Ways

Stocking Stuffer Project 2010

On December 2nd, over 50 Alabama Kidney Foundation volunteers took on the role of Santa, bringing holiday joy to nearly 1000 dialysis patients in the River Region.

Volunteers and social workers gathered at the Alabama Kidney Foundation Montgomery Regional Office to stuff holiday bags filled with donated items such as toiletries, dental care items, gloves and ornaments. The stockings were delivered before Christmas to kidney patients in dialysis clinics throughout the River Region.

Thank you to all the River Region volunteers who participated in this special event. Because of you, many individuals suffering from kidney disease were given something to smile about this past holiday season.

Special Thanks to:

BBVA Compass Volunteers

Children's Hospital

Stocking Stuffer Volunteers gathered at the North Shelby Library on December 6th to stuff over 2000 holiday gift bags. Each December, in the spirit of the Christmas season, the Alabama Kidney Foundation volunteers stuff holiday bags with useful and fun goodies to be delivered to dialysis patients in the five county Birmingham area. The Foundation also prepares special gift bags for the kidney patients at Children's Hospital. Local volunteers and businesses help make this event possible through donations to the AKF. This holiday project is highly anticipated by kidney patients. For some patients this is the only holiday gift they will receive because kidney disease has depleted their financial resources. Thanks to BBVA Compass Bank volunteers and local community volunteers for bringing a bit of cheer to kidney patients this holiday season.

Walk-a-Thon 2011

The Huntsville Walk Planning Committee have been working hard organizing the AKF's first Walk-a-Thon in Huntsville scheduled for April 9, 2011. Suzanne Barnett, Anna Bostick, Nancy and John Chandler, Lauren Dauro, Lindsey Gatzow, Jennifer Johnson, Emogene and Jim Kidwell, Lila King, Stephen Land, Nicole Lansdown, Kevin McCauley, Mary McGhee, Dennis and Cathy Satterfield, Dianne Taylor, Keri Taylor, Brandi Watts and Gail Williams.

deceased father, Harold Ricketts, had been a dialysis patient for years and always enjoyed getting his goody bag at Christmas from the AKF. Leigh earned about our stocking stuffer event from an AKF Newsletter she received. It meant a lot to Leigh to be able to volunteer for a project that brought happiness to her late father.

Ethel Lawley is one of those patients that looks forward to her goody bag from the AKF every year. Mrs. Lawley suffers from Lupus and now requires dialysis treatments three times a week. Her deceased husband received dialysis treatments at the same clinic years before. Mrs. Lawley never thought she would one day end up on dialysis. Ethel said, "I enjoy the goody bag every year. I'm real appreciative of it. I open it as soon as I get it."

Alabama Transportation Assistance and Daily Living Needs Program Recipient—Thomas Hubbard

as a senior legal assistant on New York's Wall Street. When his sister died of kidney disease he was left as the sole caregiver for his Mom so he moved to his mother's hometown of Clanton to care for her. He has enjoyed living in Clanton and began a second career away from law. "I was a working guy, loved my job and loved going to work," said Mr. Hubbard.

His plans were interrupted when he recently suffered two heart attacks, which has contributed to his kidney failure and caused him to begin dialysis just 5 months ago. Because of dialysis, he is unable to work and therefore unable to pay bills and transportation costs to treatment. "It's a big adjustment, I miss working. It's not easy having a disability and not being able to work," said Mr. Hubbard.

The Alabama Kidney Foundation helped pay for a water bill, medicines and his transportation to dialysis. "The AKF helped me with a lot of stuff. It took a lot of stress off me to know help was on the way," said Thomas Hubbard. "The AKF has been very good to me, I appreciate that they helped me out a lot."
